CAI'S PRESIDENT SPEAKS AT 37TH ANNUAL AABE CONFERENCE

Houston, TX – Kusum Kavia, the President of Combustion Associates Inc., an engineering and manufacturing company, was a featured speaker at the week-long 37th Annual AABE Conference in Houston, TX.

The American Association of Blacks in Energy, founded in 1977, is comprised of a network of energy professionals around the country, and aims to promote the involvement of African Americans and other minorities within the energy industry. The Annual AABE Conference brings industry professionals together from around the globe to discuss relevant energy topics and provide opportunities for partnerships within the industry.

The CAI President, who has over two decades of experience in the energy industry, took part in the Power Africa Initiative Diaspora Forum alongside other leading industry professionals. She highlighted the importance of creating opportunities to bring energy to Africa, and the strong potential for growth within Africa if such opportunities are supported.

Kusum Kavia Speaking at the AABE
37th Annual Conference

Since 1989, CAI has been developing award-winning innovative energy solutions on a global level. The AABE Conference, with hundreds of attendees from across the energy sector, provides a platform for companies such as CAI to create lasting opportunities for minority involvement in the energy industry.
